

...ob Name: COURT REPORTER/Court Reporter Interested?
Location: Court Administration
Wage Type: Salary Rate: See Job Description
Status: Full Time Wage Plus: N/A
Description: GENERAL DEFINITION:

This is full performance level court reporting work in the taking, transcription and processing of verbatim and edited accounts of judicial proceedings. A position in this class uses computerized stenographic equipment to take such transcription which is then translated, edited, proofed, printed, collated, certified and issued to applicable parties. A position in this class is differentiated from related classes by the constant and primarily verbatim nature of the recording made. A position in this class reports directly to a higher level supervisory or administrative position.

TYPICAL EXAMPLES OF WORK (Illustrative Only)

Takes verbatim notes of testimony at all types of court proceedings, including trials, hearings, and conferences using computerized stenographic machines; interrupts if necessary to insure accuracy and completeness of record; determines correct spelling of names, terminology and other specifics of testimony; may maintain and secure exhibits in assigned cases.

Processes tape from automated stenographic machine through stenographic reader; utilizes word processing program to translate phonetic symbols into English; uses computer keyboard to edit material directly into computer system; produces hard copy directly from system; proofreads hard copy and corrects same.

Decollates, bursts, and collates final transcript; binds appropriate number of copies depending on case, established requirements and requests from involved parties; maintains records of status of transcripts; bills appropriate parties; mails or delivers transcripts to judge, attorneys and other authorized personnel; upon challenge by judge and/or attorney, compares product against original record and corrects or substantiates.

Performs related work as required. REQUIRED KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES:

- Thorough knowledge of English grammar, spelling, punctuation and usage.
- Knowledge of legal and medical terminology commonly used in court proceedings, hearings and conferences.
- Knowledge of the conduct of legal proceedings, hearings and conferences.
- Skill in taking and editing verbatim testimony of legal proceedings involving multiple speakers, specialized testimony, emotional circumstances and similar factors.
- Ability to record proceedings at from 180 wpm to 225 wpm depending on the nature of the material, with 95% accuracy.
- Ability to communicate effectively with associates, members of the judiciary, attorneys, and witnesses.
- Ability to organize and maintain complete records of activities.

Schedule:
Experience:
Education: Associate's Degree
Crime check: Criminal background check may be required.
Bargaining Unit: Yes
Comments: There are currently two open positions available.

Interested applicants must submit a completed County application, resume and cover letter for consideration. Applicants can check the status of this posting via the County's Website at www.lehighcounty.org under Employment Opportunities, Job Postings Status to learn if the position is open, pending, or has been closed. The appointing Authority will directly contact those applicants they are interested in as potential candidates for this position

TOP